PHARMACIST AS A HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONAL

Organized by

Govt. College of Pharmacy, Aurangabad

About the College:

Government College of Pharmacy, Aurangabad was established in the year 1996 by the Government of Maharashtra. The College is approved by All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), New Delhi, Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), New Delhi and affiliated to Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad. Institution has its own huge building of 75,000 sq. ft. area. The college is running B.Pharm Course with 60 intake capacity. The college is also running two years M.Pharm. in Pharmaceutics and Pharm. Chemistry. The institute has Ph.D lab., approved by Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University since 2003. The Government of Maharashtra, realizing the need of education in clinical Pharmacy to meet the global challenges, started the Pharm. D course in 2011 (30 intake). The college has an excellent faculty led by the Principal Dr. S. S. Khadabadi. All the faculty members of this Institute have a good contribution in Pharmaceutical research and have several scientific publications in Journals of National and International repute to their credit. Most of the faculty members are Doctorate degree holders.

About the Seminar:

The profession of pharmacy and concept of pharmaceutical care are developing rapidly all over the world. Along with this, the responsibility of the pharmacist through utilization of his technical and professional knowledge in promoting rational and prudent use of medicine is also increasing. It is well documented that safe and effective drug therapy occurs when patients are well informed about medications and their use. Patient counselling is an effective tool in educating patients about their medicines and promoting their scientific and proper use. The concept of patient counselling in its modern form originated in India in the mid-1990s. Since then, considerable growth and development occurred in the country. While matching with the international concepts, the Indian patient counselling practice has established its own characteristic features. From the hospital set ups, the concept has percolated deep into the community set ups in the very recent times. This seminar will focus on the emerging trends in clinical pharmacy, patient counselling, hospital pharmacy and overall role of pharmacists in Health care system.

Objectives of the Seminar:

- To provide a platform for interaction between academicians and health care industry professionals including Hospital professionals/
- To build Hospital-industry-institute partnership. To update on recent trends in pharmacy practices.
- To orient the participants on the role of pharmacists in Pharmaco-vigilance and health care setup.
- To introduce the concept of patient counselling and emphasize its relevance to modern pharmacy practice.
